The Leaping Bunny Programme

Declaration of raw material & ingredient compliance

Cosmetic (and personal care) products

Revised Summer 2022

To be completed by the manufacturer of the raw materials as requested by, and supplied to, the finished product manufacturer named in Section 1. Any information provided must be sourced from information supplied by the raw material manufacturer and dated within the last 12 months.

This declaration may be completed by an authorised raw material distributor, provided they retain and can evidence the required animal testing information as supplied by the raw material manufacturer.

Companies wishing to use their own documentation and systems to provide the required information may do so, provided the same questions are addressed. Please refer to the Leaping Bunny 'Information for Suppliers' for definitions of the terms used in this form, or for further clarification on any of the information required. Alternatively, please contact LeapingBunny@crueltyfreeinternational.org with any questions concerning the use of this form, or to discuss whether any alternative system will meet Leaping Bunny criteria.

*Leaping Bunny criteria applies to component ingredients that are intentionally added to formulations, and to components of fragrance or flavours declared on the ingredients list when it's not a legal requirement.

Regarding fragrances and flavours, if the INCI is parfum or aroma, this declaration applies solely at the trade named raw material level.

Regarding allergens within ingredients, if they are legally required to be listed on the product label, but are not intentionally added ingredients, they do not need to be included in this declaration. However, if the allergens are an intentionally added ingredient, then they must be included in this declaration.
